

IBM Certified System Administrator - Lotus Notes & Domino 8.5 IBM Certified Application Developer - Lotus Notes & Domino 8.5

This System Administrator certification is for experienced Domino system administrators or system administrators new to Domino and who need to plan, install, set up, and manage Lotus Domino servers and users. The IBM Certified System Administrator should be able to demonstrate skills associated with growth in expanding a Domino infrastructure through such areas as clustering, expanded monitoring configurations and replication/mail routing topologies.

This Application Developer certification is for experienced Notes Domino application developers or application developers new to developing Domino applications and who will be using Domino Designer. This certification requires a deep understanding of architectural concepts, and the use of more complex functions and features.
