MCITP: Enterprise Project Management with Microsoft Office Project Server 2007

With Microsoft Office Project Server 2007 and its clients, your organization can more effectively manage and coordinate work ranging from one-time projects to complex programs across the entire project life cycle. The MCTS credential is designed for project managers who want to demonstrate their expertise in project management practices and methodologies as established by the Project Management Institute, while utilizing the MS Project and Project Server 2007 platform. Students can then move on to the MCITP program where they will learn how to manage and support projects by using MS Office Project 2007 and Office Project Server 2007 in an enterprise project management (EPM) environment.
